EPISCOPAL TEAM: BISHOP JOHN SCHOL, LEAD
BISHOP EBEN NHIWATIWA AND BISHOP PATRICK STREIFF

9th of August 2024 – Appointment Announcement of 41 District Superintendents

Dear United Methodists of Nigeria.

Greetings in the name of Jesus Christ.

The episcopal leadership team and I believe God has a great future for The United Methodist Church in Nigeria. We have seen your passion to serve Jesus Christ and witnessed your commitment to be faithful United Methodists. Praise God!

I have been in conversations with several leaders in Nigeria and taken time for prayer and discernment about District Superintendents for Nigeria. The role of a Superintendent is critical to the mission and ministry of The United Methodist Church as we carry out ministries of witness, mercy and justice in our communities.

Qualities and Skills of A Superintendent

A Superintendent needs to have the following qualities to serve well during this phase of the Church's life:

- Loves God and preaches salvation through Jesus Christ. This requires a deep and abiding faith and spiritual life. A Superintendent is first and foremost a spiritual leader.
- Loves people and wants the best for others.
- A broad and deep theological understanding of God, the Church and the world and the ability to teach biblical and theological concepts.
- Listens to learn. We need leaders who listen to laity and clergy and desire to continue to learn and grow, especially by listening.
- Curiosity. Leaders who are genuinely interested in understanding by asking good questions.
- Respect others and the office of superintendency by keeping confidentiality.
- Committed and loyal to serving congregations and The United Methodist Church to advance their mission and ministry.
- Excellent administrative and communication skills.
- A coach and mentor to clergy. I expect when Superintendents meet with clergy, they will ask the following questions:
 - Where have you witnessed God at work in and through your congregation?
 - What is going well and why?
 - What has been your most important learning during this month? How are you applying this learning?
 - What is one important challenge are you facing and how are you overcoming these challenges?
 - What support do you need from me to excel in your leadership and ministry?

No leader is perfect but the superintendents that I am appointing all have committed to continue to grow in these qualities and skills.

Priority of A District Superintendent

The priority of the superintendents I am appointing today is to recruit and develop clergy to serve effectively in the church and the world. Superintendents are also to grow and develop congregations. This requires assisting congregational leaders to set priorities and goals and support the pastor and lay leadership to achieve their goals by deepening the faith of the members and teaching them to connect with the people in the community through witness, mercy, and justice ministries.

I have been in conversation with several Nigerian leaders and the following superintendents all demonstrate a commitment to serve as I have outlined above. Some have been superintendents already, others are coming to the role for the first time, but all of them love God, love the Church and in time, want to get to know and love you. Please pray for the superintendents and please continue to pray for me and the Episcopal Leadership Team assigned to Nigeria.

In Christ,

 Bishop John Schol
